BIG LAND FRAUDS.

Heavy Swindles on the Government in Utah.

How the Proceedings Are Conducted—Men Who Are Engaged in It—Violations of the Homestead Law and Other Illegal Acts.

SALT LAKE, U. T., Oct. 8.—Colonel Jas. Tullis, special land agent of the government, who is in Salt Lake, has been investigating the land frauds of Rock Mountain, says there has been some big swindling by persons who had in no wise complied with the land laws. The desert land entry act has been violated with a recklessness that was positively astonishing. In many cases it was found that absolutely nothing had been done toward reclaiming the lands, and yet what are known and regarded as good citizens have gone before the land officers and made solemn oath that the land had been reclaimed and all the conditions of the law complied with, where, in fact, no mark made by human hands could be found upon the entire tract. Other tracts are taken up under the desert act that are no more desert than the valley of the Ohio river. Other lands were found to have been taken up under the timber culture act, upon which was growing at the time of the original filing more forest trees than the law requires when the final proof is to be made. The homestead law has not been fairly used and thousands of acres have been patented by persons who have not complied with one single requirement of the law. Fraudulent testimony to defraud the Government of tens of thousands of acres of the public lands have been fenced by wealthy stock raisers, thus leaving actual settlers without a range for a family cow. In one instance it was found that a man, living near a city in Montana, had fenced up 3,000 acres of the public lands, and had permitted the town people to pasture their stock on his enclosures for one dollar per month per head.

HE WAS JEALOUS.

A Bloody Tragedy in a New Orleans Ragin.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 8.—Kitty Connelly, commonly known as Kate Harris, a frail creature, was shot and fatally wounded at her room, in Henrietta Pag's house of ill-fame, by a supernatural policeman, Ed Ryan. Jealousy prompted the deed. In fact, the couple were jealous of one another. Ryan has of late been detailed on duty at Wenger's beer garden, on Bourbon street, near Canal. Ryan, being possessed of good looks, became attentive to some of the visitors. Hearing of the popularity her lover had gained with her trail sisters, Kitty, prompted by jealousy, visited the saloon to watch him. Ryan was also jealous of attentions paid her by a man named Michael Harris. After the entertainment the unhappy couple went their way home, and while en route continually quarreled. Before reaching their destination Kitty told Ryan they had better live apart, but Ryan objected to that kind of an arrangement, and followed Kitty into her room, which was in the rear of the third story. The quarrel continued after the room was reached, when Ryan drew his pistol, and declaring that no other man should have her, shot the woman in the abdomen, the bullet ranging downward. She died in the evening at 4 o'clock, and in her dying declaration persisted in the statement that Ryan shot her intentionally. Ryan is in jail, and he declares that the shooting was an accident.

Americans Resenting Alfonso's Treatment.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The American Colony in Paris are quite indignant over the insults offered to the King of Spain by the Parisian mob. When Alfonso was in exile he lived a long time in the American quarter and made many friends. His apartments were always open for their reception. Since his ascent to the Spanish throne he has not forgotten those with whom he was friendly before, and in Madrid he has always been most courteous to Americans and made them welcome at the palace whenever they presented themselves.

Big Fire in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 8.—At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the large building Nos. 217 and 219 Main street, occupied by L. Lowenstein & Bros., retail dry goods, was discovered on fire, and although the fire department promptly responded to the alarm, the entire building and contents were fatally destroyed. It was only by superhuman efforts that the buildings on both sides of the one burned were saved. L. Lowenstein & Bros. loss on stock and fixtures is about $150,000, insured for $100,000. The building had been recently erected for their special use by Goddett & Co., at a cost of $40,000, and was insured for $24,000.

A Maniac's Suicide.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Oct. 8.—About 9 o'clock in the morning John McClavey, a drayman, in a fit of insanity, jumped from his couch and ran into the kitchen, seized a butcher-knife, then ran into the back yard, slashing at his throat. His wife seized him, and struggled till exhausted to disarm him, when Dr. Hepler, who had been called to administer to him prior to the paroxysm, reached the scene. As the doctor seized McClavey the maniac plunged the knife into his own bowels. On the weapon being wrested from him he asserted his finger in the incision and tried to disembowel himself. The man is in a dying condition.

A PITTSBURG MYSTERY.

Strange Disappearance and Discovery of L. P. Hitchcock.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 8.—Mr. L. P. Hitchcock, late senior partner in the firm of Hitchcock & McCreey, grain merchants, was found by his friends in the Central Hotel. He left his house on Amberson avenue, Shady-side, on Monday last, without telling any one where he was going. For the past three years he has not crossed his own threshold, and for a much longer time, so he said, nothing but his early career seemed to interest him. When spoken to it was evident his mind was far away. He wears a closely-cropped, white beard, and has a very aristocratic, intelligent appearance. He said he was deeply interested in the attention which the papers have been paying to him, but was very certain that he was not lost and was equally certain that he was not about to lose himself. His son had tried to induce him to return home, but he had refused and this was the first subject mentioned to him. He seemed to forget the question or to avoid it, and most adroitly led the way to his early life. He has had a checkered career, and few citizens in Pittsburgh are better known than Mr. Hitchcock. It will be news to the hundreds who knew him that Mr. H. was certainly wandering in his head. When asked what he intended to do, Mr. Hitchcock said: "I do not know. I may go to Carlyle, Ill., or I may go to Quincy, in the same State. I had thought also of going to Somerset, this State, but I may stay here. The trouble is the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is about to take a lot of my ground at Shady-side for their new depot. It stands me at $5,500 per acre, and it worries me to have my beautiful grounds broken up." This appears to be his hallucination. It is probable his relatives will compel him to go home and place the gentleman where his diseased mind can do him no harm.

FIGHTING FARMERS.

A Sharp Encounter in a Lonely Farm House.

WARRENSBURG, Oct. 8.—A quarrel between two farmers named Rachel Lewis and Chester Rude, living about six miles south of here, has been followed by serious results. Rude lies dead at his home and Lewis is in the hands of officers. The facts in relation to this unfortunate occurrence are about these: Rude's hogs have been getting into Lewis' fields, eating and damaging his corn. He put the hogs up and sent word to Rude to come and get them, and he did, but neglected to secure them, and they again broke into Lewis' fields, and he put them up and sent word a second time to come and get them. In the morning, a little after sunrise, Rude and his brother went to Lewis' after his hogs. Chester Rude and Lewis became engaged in a quarrel, which resulted in Rude drawing a knife, and Lewis struck him on the head with a stick or club, falling him to his knees, when old man Rude attacked him and received the same treatment at Lewis' hands. Young Rude then got up and he and his father went away, without taking the hogs. Lewis came to town to consult his lawyer as to what course he should take to prevent the hogs from foraging in his corn-fields, and while here news came that Rude had died. Hearing this Lewis gave himself up, and is now at End's Hotel in the custody of officers. An inquest is being held on Rude at his home, and it is not likely that Coroner Smith will return with a verdict before morning.

HORRIBLE SUICIDE.

A Woman Burns Herself to Death With Oil.

WACO, Tex., Oct. 8.—Advices from Gatesville say that near there sometime ago a son-in-law of Mrs. Shaw lost his wife and turned over his little two-year-old child to his grandmother to care for. He married again and was desirous of regaining possession of the child. Mrs. Shaw being unwilling to surrender the child it was taken by force. Aggrieved by the loss she committed suicide by lashing herself in a very ingenious manner to a stone fence, first saturating her head and clothes with kerosene. She then struck a match and applied it. When found she was dead, her body being horribly burned.

Against the Salvation Army.

NEUFCHATEL, Oct. 8.—At a meeting called to demand of the authorities the expulsion of the Salvation Army from the country 2,000 persons were present. The proceedings were conducted in an orderly manner. A resolution demanding the expulsion of the English salvationists was adopted. The councillor of the State said that the body to which he belonged would do its duty, and close the gates of Switzerland to those who were trading upon her hospitality.

The Mahoning Valley Miners' Strike

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 8.—The coal miners' strike in Mahoning Valley still continues. The Witch Hazel mine has granted the advance of ten cents to its miners, and they have returned to work. All other mines in the valley are idle. In the Mineral Ridge district 1,000 men are idle. The miners at Church Hill and Washingtonville are also waiting an advance before returning to work. The miners are slowly but surely gaining their point.

Murder and Suicide From Jealousy.

LIBERTY, Mo., Oct. 8.—Ambrose Daggett, a young man working on the farm of David Greely, shot through the neck Miss Ella, a young daughter of Greely, causing instant death. Daggett immediately went into the orchard near by, and putting a bullet through his own head instantly expired. Jealousy was the cause of the murder and suicide. Daggett was partially deranged at times.

HAT PRIZE FIGHT.

Daley Wins by a Foul After Six Short Rounds.

Pendergrast Sheds Tears Over the Decision—Claims That Daley Was Really the Used Up Man—A Desperate and Brutal Exhibition of Stinging.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The prize fight between Joe Pendergrast, the Brooklyn giant, and Capt. Jas. B. Daley, the Irish champion, for $500 a side, took place in the ball-room of Silver Lake Hotel, Stapleton, Staten Island. Charles Johnston, of Brooklyn, acted as referee. Daley weighed 175, and Pendergrast 181. Both are over six feet tall. Neither have ever fought before. They fought with small gloves, six three-minute rounds, according to the Marquis of Queensbury rules. The men rushed to the scratch. After some heavy slugging Daley gained first blood, and Pendergrast the first clean knock-down. While Daley was trying to rise Pendergrast struck him several times, causing Daley's friends, too, claimed a foul and rushed into the ring, but the referee ordered the men to finish, as only two minutes had elapsed. Daley forced the fighting. Pendergrast appeared the stronger, and took and gave punishment freely. Both fought desperately until ordered to throw by the referee. In the second round Pendergrast had the best of it. He knocked Daley to the ground with a swinging right hand blow, and again, when Daley tried to rise, struck him a terrific blow in the face. Daley's seconds again claimed a foul. Great excitement and discussion ensued, and the referee decided that Daley had won by a foul. Pendergrast, on hearing the decision, wept bitterly, and said he was sure he could have won as Daley's strength was gone, and he was dazed from the terrific blow he had received. Fight lasted five and one-half minutes.

WINNING A WIFE.

The Tragical Ending of a Missouri Wedding.

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 8.—There was a very sensational wedding nine miles north of Sedalia, in the Longwood neighborhood, and but for the timely appearance of a well-known Justice of the Peace, there might have been a tragedy. H. C. Duffield and his two brothers live on a forty-acre farm, nine miles from town. They have the reputation of being on the tight. Their neighbor is old man Kinsley. Miss Amanda Kinsley, the only daughter, is a young woman of twenty-five summers. Duffield fell in love with her and proposed marriage. Old man Kinsley swore the two should not marry. Duffield came to Sedalia and got his license on Wednesday. On Thursday morning he got Miss Kinsley to go to his house, where she concealed herself in an upstairs room until Esquire Van Garrell arrived. One of the brothers had gone for Garrell. Before the Squire arrived old man Kinsley arrived on the scene and demanded his daughter, and said he would kill Duffield if he married her. One of the Duffield boys took an ax and made for old man Kinsley and drove him off the place. Kinsley went away as they supposed, to arm himself. At this moment Van Garrell arrived. He found one brother armed with an ax and Dick Duffield sat behind the stove with a double barreled shot gun across his knees. Dick said he intended to paralyze old man Kinsley if he came about the house to interfere with the wedding. The Squire made him give up the gun, warned him as an officer to preserve the peace, and united H. C. Duffield and Miss Kinsley in marriage. From the reckless character of the parties it is feared that there will be trouble yet.

MAHONE AND GOODE.

The Virginia Senator Forcefully Denounced by an Ex-Congressman.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 8.—Ex-Congressman Goode has published a card in reply to the charges made by Senator Mahone in a speech made at Zuni, Isle of Wight Coon, Wednesday last, that Mr. Goode held his seat in Congress by fraudulent votes, and was therefore a cheat. After saying that Mahone knew when he made this charge that it was a deliberate lie, Mr. Goode concludes his card as follows: "Pretending to be the champion of the people, he has done more to debauch public morals and ruin the good name of the State than any man who has ever lived upon her soil. He has bankrupted one of her greatest railroads, taking care, however, to fill his own pockets with enormous sums of money. Claiming to be a believer in the so-called code of honor he bears upon his forehead to-day the brand of 'liar and coward,' placed there by Col. Jubal Early in the presence of 10,000 people of Richmond."

THEY ELOPED.

A Sensational Elopement Down in South Carolina.

STATESVILLE, S. C., Oct. 8.—A sensational elopement has caused quite a ripple here. Mr. John B. Goodnight desired to marry his cousin, Miss Mary J. Goodnight. Her guardian first assented, then on the day set for the marriage swore they should not marry. John wanted Mary. She was willing, and so at midnight of that night, in a pouring rainstorm, he came to the door on horseback. The plump, pretty and plucky Miss Mary jumped up behind him, and the happy pair rode thirty-five miles into another county. At 6 o'clock in the morning they aroused a clergyman who married them as they sat on the horse, in all their dripping garments. Both are clever people and matters have all been set right.

LEFT ON AN ISLAND.

A Cincinnati Boy Lost on a Voyage in the Pacific.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—While President Arthur was at the Fifth Avenue Hotel he was waited on by a Mrs. Hibben, of Cincinnati, who asked the assistance of the naval authorities to find her son, William C. Hibben, twenty years old, who was a passenger on board the bark Spartan, Captain Crossley, which left this city for Honolulu on March 12, last. The vessel reached Alger, Java, on July 9, and proceeded, expecting to arrive at her destination six weeks later. On July 13, while near the coast of Agincourt, one of the Polynesian Islands, the captain sent his son Herbert and two of the crew in a boat to examine the island. Young Hibben was allowed to accompany them. That was last ever seen of the boat or the men. Mrs. Hibben handed the president a letter which her husband recently received from the captain, in which he says that the men are probably on some Polynesian Island. He searched for them a long time, but could not find them and continued his voyage. As soon as possible assistance was applied for from our consul at Amoy for a gunboat to search the adjacent islands, but as he was about to visit Japan with his family he did not take any active measures for their relief. President Arthur promised to do all in his power to assist the sorrowing mother to recover her son, if he is still alive.

BARTHOLOMEW'S STATUE.

The Great Work Expected to Be Finished Within a Year.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Mr. Fredric Auguste Bartholdi, the sculptor of the gigantic statue of Liberty, destined to be placed on Bedloe's Island, says that he hopes to complete his work within a year. On the trunk little remains to be done, but a portion of the right arm, which supports an immense torch, still demands a good deal of time and labor. The expression of the features is very grand, and entirely symbolical of the impression intended by the artist to be conveyed. The weight of the statue, Bartholdi says, will be about 440 tons. Previous to the shipment of this immense mass it will be necessary to cut it into 300 pieces. This division will have to be made carefully, and with a view to the avoidance of complications, and will form no small part of the task of successfully delivering the work in a complete form. M. Bartholdi hopes to accompany the statue on its journey to New York, where he will personally superintend the adjustment of the different parts and the final mounting of the figure on its base. He is very proud of the results of his efforts thus far, and says he has no doubt that when all is finished they will be thoroughly approved of by the American people.

WHISKY AT WASHINGTON.

A Strong Move Against Granting License to Certain Saloon Keepers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The anti liquor selling people of Washington are making an aggressive fight against the saloon keepers of this city with the object of preventing the issuance of licenses the coming year. They have brought forward a clause in the license regulations which provides that license shall not be granted to any person who has been convicted in the year preceding the application for such license of violating any of the liquor laws of the district, and through the grand worthy chief templar of the district have submitted it to the commissioners, with a list of the names of every saloon-keeper convicted in the past year of selling liquor on Sunday, after hours to minors, and without license. This list contains the names of many of the principal saloon and restaurant keepers, including the proprietors of one of the largest hotels in the city. If the regulations which the prohibitionists have called up are enforced in all the cases they have named, they will succeed in preventing the granting of licenses to about 150 saloon keepers.

Butler's Latest Interference.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The Post says: "Gov. Butler has detailed two State detectives to work up the defense in the Amoro case. Attorney General Sherman is very indignant, and says the Governor's action is without precedent and in violation of the constitution. The Attorney General has written a sharp letter to the Governor, in which he requests him to withdraw his officers and leave the department of justice and the prisoner's counsel to manage the case. It is hinted the Governor has reason to believe the detectives employed by the prosecution are using improper means to secure Amoro's conviction."

A Joke That Didn't Work.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 8.—Emil, a drummer for Fred Meyer, grocer, of St. Louis, was brought here from Henrietta by a Deputy United States Marshal, charged with passing a $20 bill of Meyer's advertising money. He owed a bill of $14 in Henrietta, and handed his creditor a $20 bill of the above sort and received $6 change. He had a herring and was bound over in the sum of $150, which he has so far failed to give. Emil says the whole thing was a joke; and he intended to go back and pay the debt.

A Strike of the Drivers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The car drivers on the Belt Line of street cars struck by order of the Knights of Labor, and the cars were withdrawn. The strike was occasioned by the refusal of the superintendent to reinstate a driver discharged because he refused to instruct a non-union man in his duties.

A Political Surprise in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8.—The talk of the town in political circles is the acceptance by J. Monroe Heiskell of the Independent Democratic nomination for Mayor against F. C. Latrobe, the Democratic nominee. He will be supported by some Democrats, the Republicans and Knights of Labor.

THE largest hog pen in the world—Parkersburg, West Virginia.

That is a deliberate and malicious falsehood, and Maysville is not going to be deprived of her laurels by any such misrepresentation. This town is about three miles in length, and it is a perfect hog wallow from one end to the other. As a pig-sty Maysville yields the first place to no town on earth.

OCTOBER elections have dwindled in number of late years, and the present, month will furnish but two State contests, those of Ohio and Iowa. Both occur to-day. Iowa will choose its Governor and other State officers, part of its Senate and all of its House of Representatives. Ohio will choose its Governor and other State officers and both branches of the Legislature, and in addition it will vote upon three proposed amendments of the State Constitution, one of them effecting changes in the judicial system, and the other two presenting a choice between the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors and its regulation.

HON. D. K. WEIS, editor of the Ashland Express, was of counsel for George Ellis, who confessed to complicity in the Ashland tragedy, and was hung by a mob. In view of Craft's persistent protestations of innocence Mr. Weis prints the following:

Before Neal or Craft had been tried, we had frequent consultations with Ellis and we were particularly impressed by the fact that by his confession he had virtually fastened the rope around his own neck and sealed his own doom; and we warned him of his awful situation, and told him not to add another horror to his crime by accusing Neal and Craft of a most horrible crime if they were innocent. In these interviews with the warning before him, he (Ellis) always said that Neal and Craft were guilty as he had charged them. Afterwards, in the presence of Major Brazee, whose friendship for his family in West Virginia induced him to come to Boyd as a volunteer counsel—and Ellis was warned by Major B. and myself of the terrible crime he would commit if he swore away the lives of Neal and Craft—he again re-affirmed as true what he had stated before, that Neal and Craft were equally or more guilty than himself.

The New York Herald says: It was quite in accordance with the ways of the world that the principal testimony of women on the subject of bettering the working classes should not have been heard until the last day of the Labor Committee's session in this city. Not that woman and her work are of no consequence, for every man knows that both are of great importance to humanity. But woman has always waited, so she still can wait. The statement of work done by the Woman's Christian Union is interesting and gratifying, for most of the duties with which the fifty thousand members have charged themselves are those for which no provision has been made by other people. It is the misfortune of all such organizations that they seldom can point to direct results. Their influence for good, however, is none the less powerful on this account, and those who pretend to sneer at them are generally unwilling to admit that the world would be as well off were no such influences exerted.

Mr. G. A. MCCARTHEY, of Sutton street, has just opened one of the most attractive stocks of decorated queensware ever exhibited in Maysville. A great deal of the stock is of a character never before brought to Maysville, and should be seen to be appreciated. You will be made welcome whether you desire to buy or not. The prices are unusually low, as we have found by an inspection of the stock.

Changes in the Salaries of Kentucky Postmasters.

A Washington dispatch of the 4th inst. notes some important changes in the salaries of Kentucky postmasters.

The following gain $100 per year: Bowling Green, Covington, Lancaster, Louisville, Maysville and Winchester.

The following gain $200 per year: Catlettsburg and Frankfort.

The following are reduced $100 per year in salary: Cynthiaiana, Lebanon, Madisonville, Paris and Shelbyville.

The following are reduced $200 per year: Ashland, Danville, Elizabethtown, Georgetown, Paducah and Versailles.

Newport loses $300 per year, Henderson $400.

Hills and Hollows.

Kennuckian.

A Harrison county gentleman tells us that in his Oldville neighborhood there is a family of Hills and Hollows. The Hills live in a hollow and the Hollows on a hill. They are near neighbors, and live within easy hailing distance, and it is no uncommon occurrence to hear the Hills in the hollow hollering to Hollows on the hill, and the Hollows on the hill answering the Hills in the hollow.

Cook—Want something to eat, do you?

Trapp—Are you please, miss.

Cook—What made you lame?

Trapp—It was the earthquake, miss.

Cook—The earthquake?

Trapp—Yes, miss. Ye see, I'm an Italian from the island of Ischia, and when the earthquake shook up the surface of the planet it sprung me knee, and I'm unable to work, which the same I'd be pleased to do if I was able. (Mistress and maid hereupon fill his stomach with food.)

HO! FOR CINCINNATI!

C. R. MABLEY & CO.,

Fifth Street, Opposite the Fountain.

Every floor of their immense establishment is packed with

CLOTHING, HATS, SHOES,

and FURNISHING GOODS, bought by them for CASH at ridiculously low prices, and will be sold without any regard to actual values. We want everybody visiting Cincinnati to come and see how our stores are packed with goods. We want everybody to take advantage of our limitless stock and laughably LOW prices. It is customary for some merchants to put on big profits at the beginning of a season, but we are not of that number.

An Average Profit of Five Per Cent.

Is all we want, for we rely on tremendous sales to see us safely through the season.

Our stock of Men's Clothing is the biggest in town.
Our stock of Boys' Clothing is the largest in the west.
Our stock of Hats and Caps for Boys and Men is immense.
Our Shoe Department is the largest in the union.
Our Furnishing Goods Stock is mammoth.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

The Outbreak of Orangeism and Other Matters.

The Alsace-Lorraine—Revival of Orangeism—Pilgrims to the Pope—St. Petersburg Stricken with Nihilist Circumstances—The Successor to General Thibaudin.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The annual dinner of the Societe de Alsace de Lorraine was very largely attended. Various speeches were made condemning the insults offered to King Alfonso on the occasion of his recent visit to Paris, and any demonstration designated to create hostile feeling toward Spain or Germany was strongly deprecated.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Admiral Peyron has been appointed Provisional Minister of War, to succeed General Thibaudin. The latter, in an interview, declared that he had been sacrificed to propitiate Germany.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The general opinion of the press is that the revival of the Orange movement is as great a curse to Ireland as Parnellism, which has already done incalculable harm.

ITALY.

ROME, Oct. 8.—The Pope received a large number of Italian pilgrims. In addressing them he said that the temporal power of the Vatican was absolutely necessary to the stability of the Catholic religion. The remarks of the holy father created such enthusiasm among his hearers as to cause some of them shout, "Long live the Pope, the King!" while others cried, "Down with King Humbert." These latter cries were, however, quickly suppressed by the papal gendarmes in attendance. The Pope has scarcely recovered from his recent illness, and looks haggard and careworn.

RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8.—Daylight this morning revealed a large number of placards which had been placed upon walls and such places as would escape the observations of the police during the night, pronouncing the death sentence of the Czar. This revival of activity among the Nihilists has created considerable excitement.

EXTRAORDINARY LUCK.

A Little Pocket-Book Saves a Man's Life.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 8.—About 7 o'clock in the evening Mr. George M. Klein was on his way home a shot was fired. The ball, a thirty-two caliber, passed through his coat, a linen handkerchief, and imbedded itself in a small check-book in his pocket. The point of the ball, which is conical in shape, protruded through the book to the side nearest his body. The book is letter paper, with pastboard backs, and contains about sixty leaves. The young gentleman states that a moment before the shot was fired he changed the book from the side pocket in his coat to the pocket in which it stopped the force of the ball. If the book had not been changed the result would have been fatal. No cause is assigned for the attempted assassination.

AYER'S Hair Vigor

restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks falling of the hair, and stimulates a weak and sickly growth to vigor. It prevents and cures scurf and dandruff, and heals nearly every disease peculiar to the scalp. As a Ladies' Hair Dressing, the Vigor is unequalled; it contains neither oil nor dye, renders the hair soft, glossy, and silken in appearance, and imparts a delicate, agreeable, and lasting perfume.

Mr. C. P. BRICHER writes from Kirby, O., July 3, 1882: "Last fall my hair commenced falling out, and in a short time I became nearly bald. I used part of a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, which stopped the falling of the hair, and started a new growth. I have now a full head of hair growing vigorously, and am convinced that but for the use of your preparation I should have been entirely bald."

J. W. HOWEN, proprietor of the McArthur (Ohio) Enquirer, says: "AYER'S Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from my own experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is also a sure cure for dandruff. Not within my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

MR. ANGUS FAIRBAIRN, leader of the celebrated "Fairbairn Family" of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: "Ever since my hair began to give evidence of the change which flowing time procureth, I have used AYER'S Hair Vigor, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public."

Mrs. O. A. PUESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charleston, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: "Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S Hair Vigor the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the Vigor, but now use it occasionally as a dressing."

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S Hair Vigor. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.
